Definitions and Additional Policies

Time-Based Retention (TBR)

Backup snapshots are retained for up to 1 year in the Datto Cloud following the schedule below:

- 3x daily backups are retained for 30 days
- Dailies are kept after 30 days
- Weeklies are kept after 90 days, then stored rolling, up for 1 year

Infinite Cloud Retention (ICR)

Backup snapshots are retained in the Datto Cloud indefinitely, following the schedule denoted below:

- 3x daily backups are retained for 30 days
- Dailies are kept after 30 days
- Weeklies are kept after 90 days
- Monthlies are kept after a year, then stored for selected retention period

1. All SaaS Protection + (SaaS Protection plus SaaS Defense) prices are listed per month and per license to the customer.
2. For a single domain, all SaaS Protection licenses must have the same Backup retention option and subscription duration. All SaaS Defense licenses must have the same subscription duration as the SaaS Protection licenses for the same domain. SaaS Defense data retention and storage information is different from (and typically much shorter than) that for SaaS Protection, and can be found in the product information.
3. Volume levels are determined for each pool (i.e. a set of licenses with the same retention setting and subscription duration). Volume counts are not cumulative across pools.
4. Customer pays the same price for all seats in a pool, which is the lowest eligible price.
5. All licenses in a pool purchased with a 1 Year commitment subscription, including licenses added during the subscription term, will have the same co-termination date as the first license purchased in that pool.
6. SaaS Protection + licenses will be charged for all protected users with a SaaS Protection status of active, archived, or paused and SaaS Defense status of active or paused. SaaS Protection + licenses may also be charged based on usage that requires a license from the underlying domain provider (for example, shared mailboxes).
7. All product use is subject to product fair use policies.
 - a. Datto reserves the right to limit usage and/or charge additional amounts if usage:
 - i. Results in excessive bandwidth or storage
 - ii. Harms our services, network, or any computer
 - iii. System circumvents intended use of the product
8. SaaS Defense is automatically enabled for all active seats in domains that are upgraded to SaaS Defense.
